

REGULATORY COMPLIANCE ASSISTANCE

Facilities operating in the United States are subject to numerous environmental regulations containing requirements for various plans, permits, registrations, and reports pertaining to plant or facility operations. Green Star's professional staff is familiar with these regulations, and is experienced in assessing whether a facility is obligated to meet certain requirements. Upon determining that a plan or permit is required, our staff can prepare the appropriate site-specific documents that will bring the client into compliance.

Green Star recognizes that not all companies have the luxury of staffing a full-time environmental compliance position, so we fill the position for you. Our team of compliance experts will determine what your specific planning and permitting requirements are. Then we will develop the appropriate plans, submit the correct permit applications, and interface with the regulatory agencies on your behalf. In support of these services, we assist our clients with resolving Notices of Violation (NOV). Green Star takes the burden off your staff and gives you the confidence of knowing that professionals are addressing your environmental concerns.
